1	Side view of the "Keddy Homestead" taken from down the road.  Located in Clearland on Woodstock Rd. [REDACTED]	c.1915	2016.1.15 Scanned	VERY cracked Ripped	Sepia
4	Inside view of a "Lutheran Church".  Back says "Mahon".  US flags inside along with Union Jack flags may be for a WWI related event at the St. John's Lutheran Church on Edgewater Street.	c.1915	2016.1.51	Black paper glued to back Stained spots	Sepia real-photo postcard
2	View of the Keddy home in Clearland on Woodstock Rd [REDACTED] with only a small tree in the front on the right side (in other photos this tree is large).	c.1915	2016.1.56	Dried glue and black paper on back	B&W
1	Side view of a house with wooden shingles and boards with windows panes 3 x 4 and a side door and what appears to be a central chimney.  Front says, "The house where I was born" and back says "The house where Grandma Keddy was born".  This does not appear to be the Keddy home in Clearland. Grandma Keddy is Margaret Caroline (Daurey) Keddy (b.1861-d.1945). So this would be her parents' home: Caroline Hyson (b.1835-d.1915) married William Daurey (b.1832-d.1863) and had 3 (possibly 4) children: William F. Daurey (b.1860-d.1860), Margaret C. Daurey (b.1861-d.1945), Alfred W. Daurey (b.1863-d. ~1871), and (possible 4th child) George Daurey (b.1852 - d.1926). William passed away in 1863 and Caroline married John Ernst (b.1828-d.1901) in 1866. They had three children: Ida Ernst (b.1866-d.1952), John Ernst (b.1869-d.?), and Austin Ernst (b.1872-d.1874).	c.1915	2016.1.100 Scanned	Ripped Staining	B&W

1	Side view from across the Woodstock road of the Keddy home in Clearland on Woodstock Rd. [REDACTED]  Back says, "Old home Keddy Homestead".	c.1920	2016.1.108		Sepia
1	Front view of a house with three women sitting on the front step.  Writing on back from two different seem to indicate that this is not the Keddy home in Clearland because the windows in the photo have the small 3 by 4 panes instead of 4 large panes 2 by 2. Perhaps the windows were changed?	c.1925	2016.1.57		B&W
1	Front view of a house with central door and two windows on each side and a small central chimney with trees in the yard.  Back says, "Grandpa Keddy house in Mahone Bay Verna".  If Verna wrote this, her grandpa is Nathan Keddy. It does not appear to be the Keddy home in Clearland on Woodstock Rd. However, it may be referring to "Grandpa Keddy" as in George Keddy.	c.1925	2016.1.88	Corner missing Black paper glued on the back	B&W
4	View of Mahone Bay at the head of the bay before the road went up the hill the way it presently does.  Back has writing that is difficult to read and is addressed to "Mrs John Russo" who is Verna (Keddy) Russo (b.1899-d.1993).	c.1928	2016.1.38 Scanned		B&W real-photo postcard
