Schooner City Queen fonds

1888-89

2 cm of textual records

The City Queen was a 65-foot schooner (53 gross tons) built by John H. Zwicker at Mahone Bay in 1876. She was engaged in both the fishery and coastal trading. One of her principal owners was John Bruhm. Her master during the 1888-89 period was Captain Lang (possibly William Lang).

Fonds consists of an account book recording the vessel's expenses, income, and crew wages.

The account book was donated by John Ross in 2016 (Acc. No. 2019.2.1). Ross had originally acquired the account book on an online auction site.
